BASE BALL.

Last night, President Howell, of the local club, received a letter from President Charles B. Power, of the Interstate league, stating that there had been a postponement of the schedule meeting of the league until March 21, at Mansfield. Before then it is expected the committee will know definitely in how many cities Sunday games can be scheduled.

Jack Glasscock, who became manager of the Fort Wayne last week, is busy at work signing a team. The Western league made a drafting raid on this team last winter, so there are now several positions to be filled, including second, base, third-base and short-stop. Glasscock has signed an outfielder, Carney, late of the Western league.

"Bobby" Dobbs, the Wheeling left-fielder, yesterday sent in his signed contract. This completes the outfield, which will be made up of Lytle, right; Purrett, center, and Dobbs, left, unless Jack Donovan should show greater speed than any of the trio mentioned.

Wheeling has signed another catcher, Casbolen, who played in the Southern league last season. His work at Mobile was highly praised by the papers of that city.

Wheeling's management desires to make its last solicitation for the sale of season books this week. The fans who are not provided for should come to the front and show their appreciation of the efforts now being made to place Wheeling on the professional baseball map again. It is understood the books will be withdrawn at the end of this week.

The stockholders of the Youngstown Inter-state club have elected as directors M. A. Guggenheim, Randall Montgomery, Gus Doerflinger, George A. Baker, and J. W. Pawcett. The directors elected M. A. Guggenheim president and secretary, and George A. Bellwell treasurer. Absolute authority has been given Manager Truby over the players on and off the field and there will be no interference to prevent his landing a pennant-winning team.

CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED

By The New Treatment?

HOLYOKE, MASS., Aug. 21, '97.
THE R. T. BOUTH COMPANY,
Dear Sirs—Both "Hyemal" and Home Treatment Complete have cured me of Consumption, emphysema of the lungs and all other pulmonary troubles of the lungs. Four months of the time I traveled in New Mexico and Colorado Springs, returning home much weaker and with only $500.00 in my pocket. My friends did not think it possible for me to live two weeks. My home physician, Dr. L. M. Tuttle, advised me to go to the Boston office and try your treatment. After eight days I returned home with the "Exhaler." Complete cure. I used it night and day. Would not take $500 for my exhaler. To day I weigh 165 pounds. Have had no cough for six months, and feel confident of no return of the disease, as this was in September, 1896, I sincerely endorse both's "Hyemal" to all with like trouble or weak lungs. You are at liberty to use this as you think best.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH.
If you or your friends are suffering from Consumption, it is a deadly enemy, and the use of "Hyemal" for it is guaranteed and you risk nothing except being cured.
"Hyemal" sold by all druggists, or sent by mail. Price $1.00. Extra bottles 50c.

BOXING.

Buzs Sore at Decision.

Leslie Pearce and his protege, "Buzz" Auber, returned yesterday morning from Washington, where, Saturday night, "Buzz" lost the decision to Milt Rankin, but his claim that he got the worst end of the decision seems justified by the following Washington special: "Milton Rankin, of Washington, was given the decision this evening in a ten-round bout over 'Buzz' Auber, of Wheeling, before the Gordon Athletic Club. The contest was hotly contested from beginning to end, and both men were well winded at the close of the bout. In the first three rounds Auber forced the fighting, and got the best of Rankin. The Washington lad was the more clever of the two, though, and later got in the most blows. The last round was fiercely fought, and was clearly Auber's, who seemed to be the stronger of the two. The general opinion was that the decision should have been a draw. Gordon referred the bout.

CYCLING.

Good roads, side paths for wheelmen are beginning to gain a firm foothold in many states. Ex-President Potter, of the L. A. W., says:

"Every cycle path is a protest against bad roads, a sort of public notice that public wagon-ways are unfit for public travel, a wit-sharpener to every high-way officer who has seven holes in his head, and a splendid example of the charming relations which the wheel and the roadway may be made to sustain to each other. It is a declaration of independence which, for the time being, lifts the bicycle out of the mud and puts the wheelman on a firmer ground of argument for good roads, takes from his critics the charge that the cyclist's warfare is a selfish one, and supplies to every traveler an impressive exhibition of the value of a good wheelway. And so, till the day of good roads shall come, I believe the League of American Wheelmen, in the pursuit of its constitutional objects—to promote the general interests of cycling and to facilitate touring—is bound to exert its flaccid energies to quicken, to regulate, and to systematize the making and to govern the proper use of these paths. I do not for a moment admit that this work for cycle paths can be substituted for the wheelmen's agitation for better roads, but rather do I regard it as a valued auxiliary to the greater cause, which seems to have taken new impetus in those sections where cycle paths have been put down. Good roads for all is the ultimate end of league work. It is the motto which years ago was nailed on the topmost rampart of the league citadel, and there I hope it may remain until the end of time."

Charles Miller is liable to go into history as the winner of the last day race in New York city, for it looks now as if the final 142-hour plug had been run in Gotham. Among the bills that passed the assembly at Albany, N. Y., the other day, was one introduced by Assemblyman Collins, making it a misdemeanor for the proprietor, occupant or lessee of a place where bicycle races are held to allow a contestant to continue in a race for a longer time than fifteen hours during twenty-four hours. This bill has also been introduced in the senate.

Boston's would-be imitator of Teddy Edwards has chucked it after riding for forty days, having come to the conclusion that riding a century a day for 365 days is not such an easy task as it looks on paper. W. J. Stafford was the man who hoped to eclipse the record made by the sturdy little Welshman. For the first month things went along swimmingly; then he got a touch of the grip and it became work; snow began to fall and Stafford was forced to do the butterfly act and ride some of his centuries in an indoor rink. Finally he concluded that there could be but one Edwards, and quit his job.

Some novelties in the way of century riding have been introduced by the Century Wheelmen of New York. This club yearly promotes several big century runs, which are participated in by many hundreds of wheelmen. The promoters have found that their runs are so popular that it is impossible to manage the crowd, so hereafter the trip will be made over a circular course, the riders being split into two bunches and starting in opposite directions, passing each other on the road.

Somebody who likes figures has computed that there are 10,000,000 bicycles in use in all the world. He goes on to say that, as the two wheels of the machine make about 12,000 revolutions a mile, the wheels would have to put in a total of 240,000,000 revolutions. If we take it that every cyclist on an average has ridden one hundred miles, no less a distance than 10,000,000,000 miles of ground have been traversed by 20,000,000 wheels.

BELLAIRE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County.

The Republican primaries Saturday evening found more interest manifested than was apparent before the voting began, the contests for the nomination for township treasurer and for members of the city school board bringing out the friends of the contestants. Over 700 votes were polled and the race for treasurer proved to be a close one between William A. Mason, the nominee, and Thomas H. Holt, while John H. Hopkins dropped out when he saw the vote being done by the others. The vote stood: William A. Mason, 390; Holt, 360; Hopkins, 52. For nominees for members of the city school board the vote stood: George W. Keller, 456; Robert Johnston, 397; Christian Bippus, 187. There was no ill humor anywhere in the contest and although the unsuccessful ones were of course disappointed they made such creditable showing as to have no soreness. The balance of the Republican ticket nominated is as follows: Justice of the peace, C. W. Beute; trustee, Alex. Lytle, West Wheeling; water works trustee, D. T. Anderson. The ward tickets were made as follows:

Councilmen—First, Jacob Boney; steel; Second, Moses Duga; Third, Martin Willerton; Fourth, M. List; Fifth, William J. Carson. No contests. Assessors—First, Donald McDonald; Second, blank; Third, H. Nager; Fourth, W. D. Mansell; Fifth, C. V. Leach.

The township nominees for assessors are W. H. Wolf at West Wheeling, and J. A. Johnson, township precinct. The Democratic primaries attracted less than half the number of voters out on the other side and Sherman Glasgow was nominated for trustee over George McKelvey, by a majority of 28. The balance of the ticket for J. T. Moore, for justice of the peace; William L. Milligan, for treasurer; Robert E. Neal for water works trustee; Clarence Simpson and Dr. J. Piersol for members of the school board. There were no contests except for trustee, none of the others having any competitors, and the same is true of the ward officers nominated in the wards in the order named: Council, Edward L. Altman, John L. McCaffrey, E. J. Steger, Isaac Dean. No nominee in Fifth, Assessors, J. P. Lowman, James Connors, William Campbell and William Glazier.

A competition for cheapness, and not for excellence of workmanship, is the most frequent and certain cause of the rapid decay and entire destruction of arts and manufactures. For best (which is the cheapest) work, the Intelligencer Job Printing Office is the place to go.

AN INNOVATION

In Sleeping Car Service Introduced by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Commencing Monday, February 13, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will introduce a new feature in its sleeping car service, between Baltimore and Newark, Ohio, inaugurating what will be known as the "Ordinary" sleeping cars. In addition to the regular standard sleeping cars. One of these cars will be attached to Train No. 7, leaving Baltimore at 3:30 p. m. and arriving in Newark at 10:22 a. m. next day, returning on Train No. 8, leaving Newark at 8:30 p. m. and arriving in Baltimore at 12:53 p. m. next day.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad is the first line to introduce this service in the eastern territory for special accommodation of the traveling public. In these "Ordinary" sleeping Pullman rate is reduced one-half, so that passengers have the choice of paying the higher Pullman rate and occupying standard car or take advantage of the cheaper rate, and occupy the "Ordinary" sleepers.

These cars are now, have been especially constructed for the service, and differ from the standard sleeping cars only in being less elaborately furnished. The seats are upholstered in raton, and the sleeping berths, when made up, have all the comforts and conveniences of the standard cars.

Tickets will be on sale at regular Pullman ticket offices handling business between these cities.

A CURE OF BRONCHIAL ASTHMA.

Chas. M. Jenkins, New Cumberland, W. Va., "Bronchial Asthma made my life miserable for five years, and although I doctored with two doctors and took almost every kind of patent medicine I received no relief until I consulted Dr. Byers and Tucker. After treating with these specialists I took cold very easily, and every cold always brought on a spell. I would almost choke to death. I could not sleep on account of suffocative breathing. Since treating with Doctors Byers and Tucker I have not lost any sleep, my appetite is good, I can do a day's work without feeling the least bit worn out, and have gained ten pounds. I was advised to consult these specialists by several people who had taken their treatment."
